

CHEAP WORK.

The Board of Health Once More Goes After the School Board.

Health Commissioner Somers has sent to the board of education his report and that of the plumbing inspector upon the sanitary condition of the Omaha View school.

The Omaha View school building is an old one and its poor plumbing has been before reported to the board by Mr. Macleod, superintendent of buildings. There are a number of old school buildings in the city that have been repaired after a very shabby fashion. The work done is of a cheap and poor order, and accidents are always happening in consequence. The Leavenworth school is one of them, and poor work done was followed last winter by the falling down of the basement of the furnace. The board of health report will be put in the hands of the school committee upon buildings and properties for immediate action.
