

See "Among Ourselves."

Omaha —Dear Uncle Ross: I have not written to you for such a long time I thought I would write. I am going to the program at the auditorium with my sister and girl friends. I know all will have a nice time. Uncle Ross, you were at Howard Kennedy school Friday and I saw you. You showed us some slides on the canvas, about the Humane society, which were very nice. "The last time I wrote my pen was broken and I guess that was why my letter was not printed. I would be very glad if my club tale would get first or second prize. There are not many more days until Halloween and I am going out and have some fun. I will have to close now, if I am to read the story. Your niece, LOYCE KING.
