

HOWARD KENNEDY SCHOOL

There is the prettiest fairy tale tree in the entrance hall to the school. It is covered with beautiful oak leaves of red, blue, turquoise, green, lime, purple, yellow and orange. These leaves represent the parents who have joined the Parent-Teacher Association.

Every Friday afternoon from one to one-thirty the upper grades have an assembly in the second floor corridor. Last Friday, the Fire Patrol presented the program on fire prevention. We enjoyed the short talks on care of matches, safety with Christmas trees, care of electrical appliances, how to put out bonfires, how to treat a burn and how to turn in a fire alarm.

This Friday the Junior Red Cross Council gave the program.

Janet Thomas, president of the Council gave the history of the Junior Red Cross. Edna Atkins told of its services. Judy Vickers, the reporter, emphasized the importance of contributing to the Highlights a Junior Red Cross local newspaper.

Carrie Jo Smith was honored by having her drawing accepted for the magazine cover of Highlights for this month.

We are all proud when an article or drawing by one of Howard Kennedy pupils is accepted. Over sixty schools submit articles each month. So only a few can be selected.

Larry Simmons of Cub Pack 15 earned his own money to have a ride on the Zephyr from Omaha to Ashland. He gave an excellent report of his trip to his Fourth Grade Class. We are proud of Cub Pack 15. They are an ambitious group. Their Den Mother is Mrs. Lottie Shearron, 2907 N. 27th St.

The Howard Kennedy children are generous. They are bringing in a nice lot of toys to be mended for other children for Christmas.

The construction work on the new addition is moving right along. The hill has been moved away, cement foundation is being poured for the retaining wall on the west. Part of the wall will be fourteen feet high. The ground back of the wall will be terraced and planted to prevent the earth from washing away.

Mrs. Nadine Forrest has been teaching in Mrs. Loretta Walsh's room during Mrs. Walsh's recent illness. We expect Mrs. Walsh to return Monday.

The schools are very fortunate to have competent people to serve as substitute teachers for regular classroom teachers who must be absent from school due to illness or for other acceptable reasons.

The work of the class goes on without interruption. Some of these substitute teachers are people who, although qualified to teach, do not want full time employment. Some of them are people who are waiting for a desirable opening. All of them are fine competent people. The Superintendent's office has between 100 and 125 such people on whom they can call. Most of them are employed nearly every day.

Next Thursday and Friday are Teacher Convention days. There will be no school.

P.-T.A. meeting is October 24th, next Wednesday. We hope we shall have a big attendance. Charles Peters will speak on the "Charter". St. John's Choir will sing and Senator Adams will be present. Refreshments will be served.
